

Where Law Firms Lose the Most in Document Review

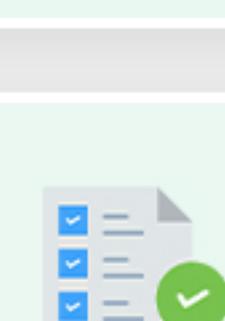

- 👉 Document review eats up 63% of eDiscovery costs.
- 👉 Hidden inefficiencies and manual work drive up risk and expense.

Use our 10-point checklist [✓] to uncover quick wins and build a court-ready process

Define a Clear Review Plan

Roles, responsibilities, tagging codes defined

Cull and Prioritize Data Before Review

Filter, deduplicate, assess early, reduce risk

Apply Targeted Search Strategies

Include misspellings, jargon, realistic terminology

Leverage Analytics, AI, and TAR

Use TAR, predictive coding, AI tools

Implement Multi-Layered QC

Spot checks, sampling, refine search terms

Enforce Privilege Review & Redaction

Verify privilege, build logs, apply redactions

Use Document Review Guides

Written guides ensure reviewer consistency

Track and Tag Responsively

Tag responsiveness, custodianship, readiness

Finalize Production-Ready Output

Compile, respect specs, exclude privileged

Iterate & Update Continuously

Refine keywords, protocols, QC checkpoints

The Hidden Gap

Even top firms struggle with manual fixes, patchwork tools, and disconnected workflows. These inefficiencies drive up costs, slow down cases, and increase risk.

That's where Venio helps — with one unified platform to simplify, accelerate, and strengthen every stage of discovery.
